Dear Sir/Madam

It is great to see that you recognise that transport is one of the most significant and effective ways that you can improve the health of all Londoners. Enable Leisure and Culture welcome your strong focus on making it easier and more attractive for people to walk and cycle by reducing the dominance of traffic. Active travel is the main way that Londoners get their exercise and many more Londoners need to walk and cycle more to benefit their health. Enable Leisure and Culture strongly support you taking the Healthy Streets approach which will improve everyone's health, reduce inequalities and make London a more liveable city.

Kind regards

Nick Atkins
